AFL-CIO Endoses Youth Services

The Pierce County AFL-CIO Central Labor Council yesterday unanimously endorsed a proposal to establish a youth services bureau in Pierce County Tacoma.

"We are pleased with the enthusiastic response and support given the idea by the private and public sector working together," said AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer L. H. Pederson.

"There is a need for a total county, city and community effort to curb our soaring delinquency problem. We can't dump this in the laps of law enforcement agencies," he added in announcing the endorsement.

The YSB proposal, formulated by the Tacoma Area Urban Coalition, calls for a joint county-city bureau to coordinate existing services, divert youth from the criminal system and decrease the area's delinquency rate.

The AFL-CIO joins members of the bench, the Chief of Police, area school officials, and the business sector in endorsing the program, according to Win Wilson, chairman of the Coalition YSB interim committee.

"The national strategy for delinquency prevention calls for early intervention and treatment of youth before they become seriously criminal," said Wilson who is a Weyerhaeuser marketing manager.

"We are delighted that organized labor has joined area citizens in supporting this proposal," Wilson said.

"Our next step is to secure joint sanction by ordinance from the city council and county commissioners to implement the proposal," he said.

"Because youth are mobile and resources are spread throughout the county we believe a joint county-city venture is the only solution."

FATHER OF THE YEAR

OUR CHOICE FOR FATHER OF THE YEAR

by Mrs. V. C. Edwards

The National Father's Day Committee may not name our choice for father of the year for he is NOT a Monte Irvin, Redd Foxx, or Howard Cosell he is only a neighbor of yours and mine, Mr. William Crosson, 2210 So. 17th St., Tacoma, Wash.

Mr. Crosson was left the responsibility of raising four small children ages 5, 8, 10, 11, when his wife died on mother's day 1964.

When the family doctor informed Mr. Crosson that his wife's illness was terminal he began to explain the situation to the children day by day thus enabling them to understand and accept death as an inevitable thing in life.

The children who were baptized as Roman Catholics because of their mother's religious faith were very happy when their father became a convert after her death. Mr. Crosson is a member of St. Leo's parish.

Mr. Crosson, who served 21 years of military duty had many interesting assignments. He learned to fire a weapon at the shooting gallery in Washington, D. C. at the age of 15 years. He used his allowances to accomplish this feat. The time was well spent because later on in military services he was able to qualify and join various rifle teams. He served in Japan with the 24th Inf. Reg. After spending time in the hospital for frost bites received from the bitter cold while on military duty in Korea 1950, was assigned to Fort Dix, N. J. as an instructor in small arms. As an expert marksman he traveled throughout Germany and the U. S. A. participating in shooting contests. During assignment in Washington, D. C. in 1954 he was on the President's honor Guard, and worked with secret service during the inaguaration of President Dwight Eisenhower. After an assignment in Vietnam he returned to Washington D. C. in 1967 where he worked with the city police during the riots following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in 1968, and the assassination of Senator Robert Kennedy.

After 21 years of Military Duty he retired in 1969 and was employed by the District of Columbia Capitol Police. Mr. Crosson gave up in discuss because of the high crime rate and returned to the relative quiet northwest in 1970. He is presently employed at T. C. C. as assistant Director of Security police. Among his medals are, excellence in competition twice, Silver Star (3rd highest medal for valor while facing an armed enemy), and from his children "A" for cooking, for he had to learn fast with 4 little one. The children, where are they now? Still with dad! William III a junior at Western Washington College is majoring in economics; Joanne, a sophomore at the University of Washington, majoring in chemistry; Michael graduated recently from Wilson High School, will attend T. C. C., and Joyce, a recent graduate of Hunt Jr. High will attend Foss in Sept.

Blacks' blood may be aid in combating cancer form

NOGALES, Ariz.—A husband-wife research team says the blood of 80 per cent of American blacks may contain an effective tool for combatting malignant melanoma, a dangerous type of skin cancer.

Dr. Karl-Eric Hellstrom and his wife Ingred, both faculty members at the University of Washington's School of Medicine in Seattle, said their discovery was made by accident.

Their report to science writers came at a special seminar sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

The Swedish-born scientists reported in the past that substances they call blocking antibodies are apparently able to stop lymphocytes—disease-fighting cells in the blood—from attacking cancer cells. This allows tumors to grow and kill patients.

While trying to determine how these antibodies may be unblocked, they "completely by accident" stumbled on natural substances that do just this, they said.

"Serum from blacks seems to have this unblocking ability," Mrs. Hellstrom said, and thus leaves the patient's own lymphocytes free to attack the melanoma tumors.

About 80 per cent of America's blacks seem to have that serum, she said.

"Blacks' plasma, the lymphocytes, seems to kill melanoma but has no effect against normal cells or other types of tumors," she said.

She said that this skin cancer "is very rare among Negroes in the United States although a different type of melanoma is found among African blacks. In fact, many clinicians I contacted have never even seen a melanoma among blacks."

Melanoma is a free-spreading cancer difficult to cure. It is known, however, as the "black cancer" because these tumors produce the melanin which is responsible for skin pigmentation.

"We're saying that plasma from blacks may be able to change the picture (of malignant melanoma) in the favorable way," she said.

INFLATION

A famous economist, Lord Keynes, said that to end a depression we must spend, spend and spend; this is called "deficit spending," In effect we have the Federal Reserve Bank just print more money. Then, when prosperity got too hot the process would be reversed; we would tax, tax, tax and draw money away from people and destroy it.

The trouble is the lawmakers like to vote spending; they do not like to vote taxing. And that is why this system does not work.

The state and local governments cannot cause inflation because they vote taxes to take money from the people and it spends the money; what the govenrment spends the people don't spend. But the Federal Government can do this in a big way with the help of the banks and the Federal Reserve System.

People can understand this because they understand counterfeiting. If some well financed counterfeiters could perfectly duplicate good money and use it to buy goods in competition with people who work and provide honest capital to get their money, prices would get higher and higher and goods and services scarcer. Who wins in the end? But in the end the people lose greatly for all their insurance, government and church bonds, preferred stock, money in savings in banks and in savings and loan companies, lose their purchasing power.

There should be a constitutional provision that government can't spend money it does not raise by taxes; any law maker ingroducing a spending bill should also introduce a taxing bill to pay the cost.

Of course, there is another cause of inflation, one of the greatest - land speculations. Land is selling at a horrible high price today.

This happens because we don't tax land enough; and we tax things like housing, personal property and the like too much.

Oh! Well; the people will see this one day our educators in and out of schools see it and talk about it.

RIGHT ON!

A Better Way

TO SAVE YOU TIME AND MONEY

GETTING APPLIANCES FIXED

When an appliance needs repair, finding a reputable, trained service technician is important not only so that you get the job done properly at a fair price, but also because some warranties are invalidated if unqualified persons attempt to fix the appliances.

Always ask if the service technician has been trained on the particular brand appliance needing service. If the appliance is covered by a warranty, it's also important to ask if he is authorized to do warranty repair.

One good way to find someone is to ask your appliance dealer. Many appliance stores do their own servicing or are able to recommend someone.

Ask friends, too. And use the yellow pages. Service organizations are listed by product. Listings may be "Dishwashing Machines—Repair" and "Refrigerator and Freezer—Repair." They may also be listed by brand. The local Better Business Bureau can advise you if you have any questions about a company's reputation.

There is a simplified method if the appliance is a Whirlpool. By dialing a toll-free number, 1-800-253-1301, any time of the day or night, you'll receive the name of the nearest Whirlpool Tech-Care service organization. During the day, knowledgeable technicians answer the phone, and they can answer questions you might have.

Before you call anyone however, do this: see that the appliance is still plugged in and that the fuse hasn't blown.

ADA speaks out. . .

Want Nixon to resign

WASHINGTON -- The National Convention of the politically Liberal Americans for Democratic Action (ADA) called for President Nixon's resignation and urged Congress to censure him.

"The Watergate Scandal has called into question the future of Richard Nixon as President...The Federal government is under the shadow of the worst political scandal in American history," the Ada said in a resolution it passed.

"Today, 'given the atmosphere President Nixon created in his government, and given the pervasive evidence of the collapse of Mr. Nixon's leadership, the members of the ADA believe that President Nixon has only one choice before him: to resign from the presidency of the United States," the ADA said.

The call for a Congressional censure was added to the resignation demand from the floor after an hour's debate on whether the 25-year-old liberal political organization should call for impeachment proceedings against the President.

In calling for Nixon's resignation, the ADA cited two central problems which it said have afflicted Nixon's performance during the past 10 months: "The climate of amorality which President Nixon allowed to develop in his Administration" and the fact that the confidence of the American people in Nixon's ability to lead the Nation has been eroded.

"Mr. Nixon's speech to the Nation protesting his ignorance of the Watergate Affair has not rallied the Country to him," the ADA said. "The Government's ability to function appears almost at a standstill."

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D—Minn., meanwhile told the meeting that if Nixon is serious in his call for campaign reform, he should commit himself to public financing of federal elections.

MONDALE, in prepared remarks said needed changes in the financing of political campaigns could not wait for recommendations that would be made bu Nixon's proposed commission on electoral reform.

"If the President is serious in his desire to breathe health into the campaign process, he will not just appoint a Commission--he will commit himself now to the principle of public financing of federal election campaigns," Mondale said.

His roll in bringing up his children in todays' society is more complex than ever, for he must continuously create ways and examples to help his children extablish their identity in this an everchanging world.

"LIFT EVERY VOICE AND SING"
by James Weldon Johnson

Lift ev-'ry voice and sing, 'Till earth and nea-ven ring,
Ring with the har-mo-nies of Lib-er-ty; Let our re-joic-ing rise High as the list-'ning skies, Let it re-sound loud as the roll-ing sea.

Sing a song full of the faith that the dark path has taught us.

Sing a song full of the hope that the pre-sent has brought us; Facing the ris-ing Sun of our new day be-gun, Let us march on till vic-to-ry is won.

Ston-y the road we trod, Bit-ter the chast-'ning rod, Felt in the days when hope un-born had died; Yet with a stead-y beat, Have not our wear-y feet come to the place for which our fa-thers sighed?

We have come ov-er a-way that with tears has been wa-tered

We have come, tread-ing our path thro' the blood of the slaugh-tered, Out from the gloom-y past, Till now we stand at last where the white gleam of our bright star is east.

God of our wea-ry years, God of our si-lent tears, Thou who has brought us thus far on-the way; Thou who hast by Thy might, Led us in-to the light, Keep us for-ev-er in the path, we pray.

Lest our feet stray from the pla-ces our God, where we met Thee.

Lest our hearts, drunk with wine of the world, we for-get Thee; Shad-owed be-neath Thy hand, May we for-ev-er stand, True to our God, True to our na-tive Land.

FASHIONABLES

"WITH THIS RING"
by Denise

June is traditionally the wedding month but other months are fast becoming desirable. There will be many frustrated young people trying to plan their weddings or just a simple ceremony. Maybe this column can be of some help.

Choosing the type of wedding is a personal concern not only for the prospective bride and groom but the bride's family. The groom's family should also be included in the wedding plans. The traditional wedding is still popular, however, many young couples are turning to the contemporary weddings. These weddings attempt to personalize their vows with deeper meaning.

The weddings can take place anywhere the couple wishes. Where the wedding takes place is related to the type of wedding the couple want.

If you intend having a religious ceremony in a place of worship you first item of business is to visit the clergyman, for he can advise you on wedding regulations that must be followed, type of music, decoration, and scheduling on the church calendar. Many religions make premarriage counseling mandatory.

For contemporary weddings, with religions officiating it is imperative to check with the clergymen about the readings and music you would like to use. He can tell you what can or cannot be used. It is of utmost nonsense to spend more on a wedding than one can comfortably afford. For the couple and their families, a wedding should be in keeping with the social and financial status of the bride's family, for it is the prospective bride and her family that bear the wedding expenses.

The bridegroom is responsible for the marriage license, engagement and wedding rings, bride's bouquet, flowers for the bride and bridegroom mothers, fee for the minister, gifts for the ushers and best man, boutonnieres for men in wedding party, and a bouquet of flowers to the bride's mother with a thank you note.

Clearinghouse For Minority Education

By Jerry McLaughlin

CAREER FAIR
by Jerry McLaughlin

Two hundred students from the Tacoma-Seattle area attended "Tomorrow is Yours," a clearinghouse sponsored career fair recently held at the Sea-Tac Holiday Inn.

Students from Tahoma, Stadium, Sealth, Roosevelt, Garfield, Franklin, Cleveland and Rainier Beach high schools viewed displays and demonstrations presented by the University of Washington's Health and Science departments and eight area community colleges. Mr. Carl Brown, minority affairs director at Tacoma Community College, even learned how to tune the color on a television set.

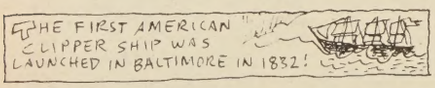
Highlite of the career fair was a noon speech by Dr. Nolen Ellision P.H.D. The young black president of Seattle Central C. C. Dr. Ellision challenged the minority students to look seriously at those science laboratories and mathmatic classes often neglected in higher educations response to the educational needs of black, chicano, native American, Asian, and poor whites. He said "The assumption by most white institutions was that mi.. ities only needed black history, sociology, and music. While these areas are important to people whose culture has been neglected, it is also important for black students to understand fully and move as rapidly as possible to equipt themselves with nation building skills. This mean.s that the sciences and the professions can no longer be over looked."

DENTAL ASSISTANT PROGRAM

According to Mr. Johnson (shown being interviewed by clearinghouse administrative intern Cheryl Redmond) Admissions officer at Bates Vocational Technical School, the Dental Assistant Program has immediate openings for the summer session. Students under 21 pay no tuition but lab fees for the summer run $15. The student must also purchase books and uniforms. For further information contact Cheryl Redmond at the clearinghouse. The phone number is 383-3771.

Bates also has immediate openings in classes in the following occupations: Chemical laboratory and control technicians, computer programming systems, concrete technicians, cosmetology, date processing operations, dining room service, television broadcast technicians, trade sewing and a few others. For more information call Bates—BR 2-9367 Ask for Mrs. Crawford.

The Clearinghouse is located at 1321 So. K. Street. The phone number is 383-3771.



Evergreen Safety Council

The Evergreen Safety Council announces that it has received a $4,700 grant from the Boeing Employees Good Neighbor Fund.

The funds are to be used to develop a program to correct improper driving procedures.

According to Larry Bulling, president of the Council, "The grant from the Boeing Employees Good Neighbor Fund is a significant step towards eliminating the greatest threat to human life in modern times--highway accidents. Millions of dollars in public funds are used in building highways, enforcing traffic laws, auto safety laws, driver education, but very little is being done to change the bad driving habits that people develop. The grant from the Boeing Employees fund will help us to establish a pilot program to correct these deficiencies."

The Evergreen Safety Council is a non-governmental, privately supported chapter of the National Safety Council with offices in Seattle. The Council conducts programs in accident prevention, Traffic, Home, Recreational and Industrial Safety.

Public Notice

As of June 11, 1973, the Ujamaa Culture and Recreation Center Men's Slow Pitch team is 3 and 0. We have not been defeated thanks to a fine discipline team who puts out 100 per cent effort at practice and especially during the games where it really counts.

Our first games was against Tropical Fish, beating them 19 to 11 in the longest game played thus far. Henry Bakery was our second win of the season winning 8 to 4. Our third games was against Tacoma Harley Davidson, which consisted of the Tacoma Police Department. We beat them 6 to 4 in a good game.

I might add at this time that there has been two invitational slow pitch tournaments which we haven't been invited to. Could it be that the other teams are scared to face "the Agony of Defeat?" I can't say at this time what the reason might be but I can say that we have a very fine team that is nothing but championship material. RIGHT ON to our TEAM!

The U.C.R.C slow-pitch team practices at Stanley Field every Thursday at 7:00 p.m. and on Saturdays & Sundays at 1:00 p.m.

Your attendance at our games would be highly appreciated. There's nothing like that moral support, so come on and check out our team. For schedules and further information contact Thomas E. Allen, U.C.R.C.'s Recreation Consultant, 415 South 13th Street. Phone 627-2117. Next game Thursday 8:30 p.m. Peck Field.

GIVE YOURSELF A SPORTING CHANCE

Trail riding with a Kawasaki can add a new dimension to a hunter's and fisher's avocation.

With the new Kawasaki G-4 100 Trail Bike, for instance, you can go exploring for a good 100 miles in back country, selecting many places to fish and hunt without ever worrying about refueling. It has a total of 10 possible gears, and in low range it can climb a 40 degree hill.

The G-4 has just the perfect combination of balance and pulling power, plus knobby studded tires, to make it the king of the off-road. The rear shocks are so fine that the bike won't seesaw at high speeds when you go crusading across rough and rocky terrain or whizzing along a sandy beach. The muffler is quieter and a spark arrestor has the approval and blessing of the Forestry Code.

$25 MILLION CONTRACT SIGNED

United Air Lines has signed contracts with two Black insurance companies, each to reinsure $25 million in group life insurance under the airline's overall group life insurance coverage.

The insurance companies are Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Los Angeles, Calif., and Supreme Life Insurance Company of America, of Chicago, Ill. Golden State, founded in 1925, lists assets totaling approximately $40 million and is licensed in 19 states and the District of Columbia. Supreme Life, with assets of $39 million, began business in 1921 and is licensed in 11 states and the District of Columbia.

"We are proud to be among the growing number of corporations who are becoming more and more cognizant of the important role of private enterprise by Black companies in the economic community," said Waller B. Smith, director of insurance for United. "We recognize the vital function they perform and realize our commitment to corporate social responsibility."

NAACP office break-in?

The Los Angeles Times and the New York Times said authorities are looking into reports that two separate burglaries may have been carried out by agents of the FBI or The Committee To Re-Elect The President.

The Los Angeles paper said the FBI is investigating the possibility that convicted Watergate conspirators G. Gordon Liddy and E. Howard Hunt "or their associates" broke into the Manhattan offices of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) Legal Defense Fund the same weekend they burglarized the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist in Beverly Hills.

The New York Times said it has learned that FBI agents broke into the office of an underground newspaper in Washington shortly before President Nixon's inauguration in 1969 to look for information linking the paper with subservise groups.

The Los Angeles paper said it learned the investigation was begun at the suggestion of Jack Greenberg, director of the NAACP fund. Greenberg said Federal Prosecutor Earl Silbert told him the FBI had been ordered to check into the possibility the break-in at his office was connected with the Watergate burglary, the Times said.

Officials of the NAACP Fund said they found on returning from the Labor Day weekend last Sept. 7 that desks and a file cabinet had been broken into but nothing was taken, although there was $100 in cash in one of the desks.

Greenberg said the Fund keeps no secret information in its office. At the time of the break-in, the Fund was involved in a number of politically sensitive cases, including the defenses of Black Panther Leader Bobby Seale and New York Times Reporter Earl Caldwell, who was fighting subpoenas from a San Francisco grand jury investigating the Black Panthers.

In its story the New York Times said two former Army intelligence operatives revealed that they took part in an FBI said on the office of the Washington Free Press at the request of the FBI.

The sources said the raid came at a time of concern about possible disruptive activities during the inaugural festivities. Such activities by the FBI had been ruled out two years earlier by then-acting Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark on the grounds they were unconstitutional.

The break-in was the first alleged to have been made during the Johnson administration after Clark's ruling, the Times said, noting that the Senate Watergate Committee is known to be expanding its investigation into Domestic intelligence-gathering activities during the Nixon Administration.

Tom Bradley in...

L.A. expects changes

LOS ANGELES — Tom Bradley is not just another new Mayor.

When he is sworn into office July 1, Bradley becomes head of the Nation's third largest city and one of the most powerful black elected officials in the Democratic party.

"I have always been an activist in Democratic politics and I don't expect to run from that responsibility," said Bradley, who swept three term incumbent Mayor Sam Yorty out of office.

While outlining his plans to reshape the city — including giving it a rapid transit system within four years — the tall, soft-spoken councilman and ex-policeman did not ignore that he had been thrust into the National political limelight.

"I expect I'll be involved in political campaigns in this State and Nationally," Bradley said in a City Hall interview, adding that "it is much too early to tell."

But the 55-year-old Bradley, who called his election the fulfillment of an "impossible dream" in a city with only 18 per cent black population, said that the Mayor's job is the only one he wants.

"My priority concern is the City of Los Angeles and I don't expect to run from that responsibility," Bradley said.

The Mayor-elect outlined an ambitious plan to reorganize the city government and said he would launch a Nationwide search for new department heads, limit overseas travel and create a cabinet of top city administrators.

He said one of his first jobs will be to travel to the State Capital in Sacramento and also to Washington, D.C., to lobby for funds for a rail rapid transit system for this sprawling city of cars and freeways.

Yorty, at a news conference, said he was not surprised by his defeat, that the city's voters are growing more liberal and that Bradley's victory will bring a "radical change."

"If a radical change means that the city will now have a full-time working Mayor who will work as hard for his paycheck as the rest of the citizens, then I guess Yorty is right," Bradley responded.

Yorty said the Watergate scandal may also have been a factor in his defeat.

"I think Watergate has permeated the whole political structure," he said. "It's making it harder for incumbents."

Yorty did not offer any congratulations to Bradley, but did offer to help him in the transition period.

Yorty, who has spent most of his adult life running for office, including shots at Governor and President, said he will take a vacation, then return to his private law practice.

Food For Thouaht

G. M. Batie

Last week we carried the plain stuffed cabbage recipe, while thumbing through my June Red Book, I discovered this variation. Must say, the family got a hearty meal. This plus a green salad was delicious.

SWEET AND SOUR STUFFED CABBAGE

1 small head cabbage
1 pound ground beef
1 small onion peeled and grated
¼ cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup water
½ teasp. salt
1 small peeled onion, sliced
1 medium sized peeled carrot, sliced
1 cup beef bouillon broth
1 cup canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teasp. salt

Cut out and discard core of cabbage. Place cabbage in a large saucepan and cover with boiling water; simmer 5 mins. Remove from water and remove 8 outer leaves. Cut remaining cabbage in ½ inch strips or slices. Combine meat, onion, bread crumbs, water and the ½ teasp. salt. Fill each cabbage leaf with ¼ cup of the meat filling. Roll up tight and fasten with tooth pick.

Place cabbage roll in a deep saucepan folded side down; add sliced cabbages, the sliced onion and carrots. Add broth cover and cook over low heat for 1 hour, stirring occassionally. Add tomatoes, lemon juice, brown sugar and the 1 teasp. salt. Cover and cook a while longer. Remove from heat. Serve over rice or noodles.

Survey

SICKLE CELL SURVEY

Sickle Cell Anemia is an inherited disease affecting the red blood cells. Normally, red blood cells are round and flexible, but sickled red blood cells have bazaar shapes and are inflexible. Because of this inflexibility, sickled cells do not flow smoothly through the blood vessels and, as a result, they clump inside of the vessels and obstruct circulation. When this happens pain, called a crisis, occurs. Sometimes the pain is so severe that the individual requires hospitalization.

People with sickle cell anemia may require special attention because a severe crisis may occur without warning. These crisis have been known to cause strokes, heart attacks, retardation, and death.

Sickle cell anemia affects one out of every four hundred blacks. The sickle cell trait, which is much higher than sickle cell anemia, affects one out of every ten blacks. The black population in the United States is 20,000,000. 50,000 of those blacks have sickle cell anemia.

These staggering statistics have led people to believe that sickle cell anemia only affects blacks. Sickle cell anemia is found predominately in people of African descent, but it is also found in people from the Mediterranean area-Greeks, Turks, Sicilians, and Italians. Sickle cell anemia has been found in American Indians, Mexican-Americans, Puerto Ricans, South Americans, and American Caucasians.

The Tacoma Sickle Cell Program is designed to meet the needs of the Tacoma-Pierce County Area. Our program has received federal funds enabling us to offer sickle cell education, screening, and detection free to the public.

Everyone, no matter what race, creed, or color, should be tested for sickle cell anemia. The Sickle cell test is a simple blook test. However, this test differs from the routine blood test in that during laboratory analysis a substance called hemoglobin, which transports oxygen inside of the red blood cells, is analyzed. In sickle cell anemia the hemoglobin is abnormal. It is this abnormality which causes the red blood cells to sikcle.

If you would like to be tested for sickle cell anemia please contact the Tacoma Sickle Cell Program at 593-4894, Monday through Friday, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

You can assist us in the future planning of our program by filling out the following questionaire and returning it to:

JoAnn McDole, Counselor
Tacoma Sickle Cell Program
310 South L Street
Tacoma, Washington 98405

Name_____
Address_____
Have you been tested for sickle cell anemia_____
How many in your family would like to be tested for sickle cell anemia_____

Our goal is to test 10,000 people. Whether you have been tested or not you can provide very important information to the sickle cell program if you would fill out the above questionnaire.

TO: U.C.R.C.Staff and Community
FROM: Mr. Thomas E. Allen
DATE: May 21, 1973
SUBJT: Men's Slow-pitch Team Roster

It is my pleasure to be at the coaching reins of the men's slow-pitch team. Already, the team has performed tremendously well in pre-season play, but losing two games put the team out of the tournament.

In losing the first game (14-3), U.C.R.C. came back to win the next two games (14-3) and (8-5), and lost (4-2) in the last game, which was close all the way.

At this time I would like to present the names of U.C.R.C.'s slow-pitch team for 1973:

Today's portrait focuses on two players mentioned last week: Jewel Boyd (pictured above) and Nobie Jean Judie. Both women came to us when we needed new players. Mrs. Boyd has played ball in the service and in Germany before she graced our practice field. Her timely arrival has allowed us finally to reach the level of competition we were at when the season started. She has good movement around second base and will be a great asset to the team.

Nobie Jean Judie comes from a sport conscious family—the Moores (two football All-Americans). It is no surprise to any of us that she is out there competing. Although she has been away from the sport for a while, hard work is bringing her back into true baseball form. We expect great things from our newcomers, including Betty Jean Brown, Donna Murphy and Sheila McDuffie.

We have played ten games so far this season. After winning three straight we fell into a slump losing 5 out of 6 games. Never have we been embarassed on the field—mad but not embarrased. For a team to be a winner there must be unity, team pride, and talent. We have the talent, the unity is coming and with some ball games won, the team pride will be second to none. Our team at times reflects us—BLACK people. When we play well as one unit we destroy all the same evils that cause our people to be fragmented. When we lose and get mad the attitudes developed cause us to lose sight of our objective and faith in our fellow blacks. I hope we have finally overcome this problem. Time is on our side. Give us a chance to show you that we have it together. COME OUT AND SEE US PLAY a few games. If we can put together 14 different sisters and mold them into a unit and win don't we deserve your support?

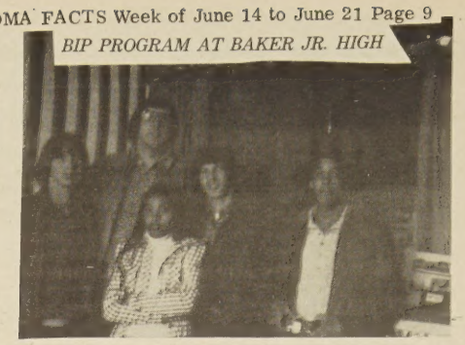
BIP PROGRAM AT BAKER JR. HIGH



BIP PROGRAM at Baker Jr. High—L-R, Mark Young, 9th, Dennis McInteer, Teacher, Rachel Gorospe, 9th Ben Skaught, Teacher, Ralph Herd, 9th

Baker Junior High is inaugerating a new community involvement program this summer. The program is entitled Baker Integration Program.

Essentially, BIP is made up of teams of Baker teachers and students who are traveling around Tacoma interviewing minority employees and employers.

The students, equipped with tape recoreders and cameras confront the person they are interviewing with questions. The interview begins with the student's effort to determine: a(the part schooling played in the interviewee's present job, and b(the effect his or her race and racial pride had upon their employment success and failures.

No form questions are asked, however, the students being encouraged to find meaningful questions through the flow of conversation.

Although the program runs only one week (June 11-14), the information gained will be used at Baker throughout the next school year.

A resource center will be included within the school building that will offer to students concerned about future employment the tapes, photographs, and written information gained will be used at Baker throughout the next school year.

A resource center will be included within the school building that will offer to students concerned about future employment the tapes, photographs, and written information gained from the BIP program. Also, employees and employers contacted are being asked to take part in class and group discussions next fall. And finally, in the spring of 1974, a minifestival at Baker will be held for nith graders directly interested in future employment. Those persons contacted this summer will be asked to attend the festival and to present to the students the "hows" and "whys" of finding employment.

Marilyn Myers and Bob Levens, two Baker Jr. High counselors, drew up the program as a result of concern that Tacoma schools, now fully integrated, still have more work to do to make integration successful. Next year, providing this year's program is successful, BIP could take on an even greater significance.

Welfare cuts hurt

WASHINGTON — Some aged, blind, and disabled welfare recipients will no longer be eligible for food stamps and may lose Medicaid benefits when a new federally guaranteed income plan takes effect next Jan. 1, the Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) said.

The new Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program, which will provide $4.5 billion in Federal and State payments to 6.2 million persons, was passed in the waning days of the 92d Congress and signed by President Nixon last Oct. 30.

It will replace the current State-administered Old Age Assistance, Aid to the needy blind and aid to the disabled with a guaranteed minimum cash income of $130 a month for those persons and $195 for a couple. About half the States currently provide levels of aid that are higher than those amounts, HEW said.

However, certain individuals will get less aid under the new program than they do now, HEW said in a statement announcing its plans for implementing the program. It estimated that 1.5 million aged, blind, and disabled persons would lose their eligibility for food stamps and between 100,000 and 150,000 will lose medicaid medical benefits.

This could mean that SSI benefits would not equal the current total level of welfare aid for some persons.

A spokesman for the Social Security Administration, which will administer the Federalized welfare aid, said about 35 States and jurisdictions have indicated they will supplement the Federal aid but about 15 will not.

Under the changeover, States no longer will be required to provide Medicaid for all aged, blind and disabled welfare recipients and food stamps will be eliminated for such persons.

"Congress and the Administration intended that the new law would 'cash-out' food stamps by providing eligible SSI individuals with cash to buy food, thus giving them freedom of choice and the dignity that comes with having cash income to spend as they choose," HEW said.

LOW COST HOUSEKEEPING

Keeping your house clean can cost in money as well as your time and energy—if you buy all the cleaning products now on the market.

Why not substitute low-cost cleaners you already have on hand? Often they work just as well.

Household ammonia will take care of many more jobs than it's usually called to do. Diluted in water, ammonia will clean rugs, windows, mirrors and glassware, plastic shower curtains, and act as a was remover for nonwood floors.

Also, you can clean your oven with undiluted ammonia; put a saucer of the ammonia in a cool oven and leave it overnight with the oven door closed. The next day, wife off the grease with a cloth dampened in a solution of one cup ammonia in a pail of water.

Put baking soda to work cleaning stainless stell appliances, painted woodwork, bathroom tiles and the inside of your refrigerator. To remove grease stains from carpets, rub dry baking soda into the nap of the carpet; let it stand; then vacuum. Copper applicances will come out shining if you wet them, sprinkle with baking soda and rub with half a lemon.

Or, use a paste of lemon juice or vinegar and salt to polish copper—and brass. For a high luster, polish with fine scouring powder and a soft cloth.

Vinegar will also work in your washing. To keep delicate shades in colored materials from running or fading, add a teaspoon of vinegar to each gallon of wash and rinse water.

Check your cupboard for cleaners you already have on hand; they often work just as well as the "new, improved, miracle product X" and cost a great deal less.

Gas explosion kills two

WILLINGBORO, N.J. (UPI)—An explosion, apparently triggered by gas, killed a woman and her son in their home Wednesday. A 3-week-old child sleeping inside at the time of the blast was unhurt, police said.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Richard Saferstein and her son, Michael, 2. Their bodies were blown apart by the explosion. An unidentified neighbor rescued the other infant in the kitchen. "I thought, 'My God,' they're bombing us,' " said Lena Defede of New Castle Lane, commenting on the blast which partially destroyed the Saferstein home and damaged at least six others. Police said they believed the explosion was gas-related and officials of the Public Service Electric and Gas Co., called to the scene, shut off all utilities in the neighborhood.

Congress rebuffs plea

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House has been urging Republican senators to try to delay a congressional cut-off of funds for U. S. bombing in Cambodia, but one highly-placed senator said. "It's like holding back a freight train."

Senate GOP leader Hugh Scott said President Nixon's National Security adviser, Henry A. Kissinger, "was on the phone every hour" Tuesday talking with GOP senators during and after a test vote in which administration critics won a one-sided, 55-21 victory. Scott, one of those called, said Kissinger told him he was very close to firming up with North Vietnam a real cease-fire and wanted time to negotiate further before Congress voted a funds cut-off. Kissinger resumes the negotiations in Paris next Wednesday.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield dismissed Kissinger's appeal. "We are going to stay with this until we finish it," he said. "We won't set it aside for anything else."

Assails Nixon's Phase 3

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield said Wednesday President Nixon's economic policy was a "total, colossal failure" and called for resumption of wage-price controls. "I have not one iota of faith in Phase III," Mansfield said in a Senate speech. "It is totally and completely ineffective."

Mansfield added that the largely voluntary compliance program, in effect since the first of the year, was a "total, colossal failure because inflation is going up, up, up." He said Congress was willing to go "more than half the way" if the administration would propose a return to "something on the order" of mandatory wage and price controls under Phase II.

Judge delays immunity

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chief U. S. District Judge John J. Sirica Wednesday signed a 20-day delay of immunity for former White House aides John W. Dean III and Jeb Stuart Magruder that will keep them from testifying in the Senate Watergate hearings until at least June 18. Sirica responded to a Justice Department request for the delay. There was no explanation from the Department as to why it made the request.

Dean, who was legal counsel to President Nixon, and Magruder, who became Deputy Manager of the Nixon Re-Election Campaign, were voted limited immunity by the Senate Watergate Committee in exchange for testimony about Watergate planning and subsequent cover-up efforts. In other developments:—John D.Ehrlichman, formerly one of Nixon's top two aides, denied he tried to involve the CIA in any Watergate cover-up but said he believed Dean may have made some "improper suggestions."

Unsafe plastics hit

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) said Wednesday the plastics industry has been claiming for five years that widely used plastic foam materials are safe, even though it knew they posed a fire hazard involved in disasters which have killed scores of persons.

Dear Tac-Vac

by: Ted Jefferson

Dear TAC VAC:

Q-- What is the procedure for a veteran to obtain dental treatment from the VA? Is there any time limit involved?

A-- A veteran must apply to VA within one year following his discharge. Application is made on VA Form 10-10 and should be accompained by a copy of DD Form 214. VA will then send dental form 10-2570 which is to be completed by the veteran's dentist That examination must be completed within 14 months following discharge. The approved dental treatment plan is then sent directly to the dentist and the veteran notified to contact his dentist for early completion of the dental care.

Q-- My husband retired as an officer from the armed forces. However, he doesn't get military retired pay, because he waived it all to draw VA disability compensation. Would that prevent him from participating in the Survivor Benefit Plan?

A-- Your husband may designate as his base amount up to the entire amount of the gross military retired pay he is eligible for even though he has waived all or a portion for VA compensation. He will be required to mak direct payments of the premimum amount to th Retired Pay Division of his service branch.

Q-- If a military retiree is living oversea and dies, may he be buried in one of the permanent U.S. military cemeteries located in that foreign country?

A-- No. All of the cemeteries under jurisdiction of the American Battle Monuments Commission are closed to burials execpt for remains of American war dead still found from time to time in World War I and II battle areas.

VA APPOINTS TAC VAC AS HOUSING BROKER
by Ted Jefferson

The Seattle Veterans Administration Office has appointed the Tacoma Veterans Action Center as a housing broker. With the Veterans Action Center being operated by the Tacoma Urban League and they have extablished a superior track record with their housing program, VA decided that this record was sufficient enough to appoint one of their programs as a veteran housing outlet. There are numerous houses throughout the Tacoma area that can be viewed internally by any eligible veteran. A list of all available houses for sale are presently posted at all Tacoma Urban League Offices. Contact TAC VAC at 383-4008 for an appointment to view the desired house.
